Forecast
ARKANSAS - Partly cloudy and a little warmer through Saturday. Low tonight in the 60s.

Arkansas Weather
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A cold high pressure system that caused record July lows is expected to move out of the state tonight with a warming trend to follow.

A cool 56 degree low at Little Rock today tied the all-time record low for July for the second day in a row. The last time the temperature fell to 56 was July 23, 1947.

This cold air mass has broken records from the Great Lakes area southward almost to the Gulf of Mexico.

Low temperatures reported around the state this morning ranged from 54 degrees at Fayetteville to 60 at Pine Bluff. Highs Thursday ranged from 79 at Harrison to 85 at Pine Bluff and Texarkana.

No rainfall was reported around the state in the 24-hour period ending at 7 a.m. today.

LOTS OF CHOICES

GLASGOW, Ky. (AP) - During a country fair, the announcer told the crowd: "Those who brought their lunch may go to the grove and eat. Those who have 50 cents can go to the Holt Hotel for a bounteous repast. And those of you who have neither, can get out your Bible and read about Belshazzar's feast."

Group Holds Barbecue

Last Tuesday, July 2, the Hope Neighborhood Council of the Southwest Arkansas Development Council held its regular council meeting that was climaxed with a free community barbecue.

The meeting was opened by the Rev. Mr. Wilhite, president of the S.W.A.D.C. county board. Skippy White gave a short talk on "The War On Poverty". After the speech more than 200 plates were served B-Q chicken, B-Q ham, baked beans, potato salad and cold drinks.

The neighborhood community council wishes to express their sincere appreciation to Mrs. Georgia Clark, neighborhood resident worker and her aids: Miss Bernice Bain, Helen Hughes, Charlie Miller, Martha Thompson and Miss Mavis Williams, for serving plates. Special appreciation to Mrs. Lena Tyus, Secretary and Skippy White vice-chairman of the county board for rendering a special service by soliciting donations from 66 persons in the community - 16 persons donated cash amounting to $43.50, - 34 donated 50 chickens - 16 donated bread pickles etc., (6 hams were donated by Skippy White).

Attending from the S.W.A.D.C. Mrs. F. S. Smith center director for the 5 counties and Charles Kennedy the assistant director. From the county: Mrs. Inez Turner county health nurse, and Mrs. Drew from the Welfare department. Politicians present were the candidates for the office of State Representative Arthur L. Strech and Talbot Field Jr.

Alabama Attorney Visits Ray

By GODFREY ANDERSON

Associated Press Writer
LONDON (AP) - Alabama lawyer Arthur J. Hanes spent about an hour today in Wandsworth Prison, conferring with James Earl Ray, the man wanted in Tennessee to stand trial for the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

When he came out of the jail gate, Hanes said: "He is feeling all right. His health is good. He is being well looked after. His mental attitude is good. We talked of many things."

Hanes, who said on arrival at London Airport earlier today that Ray might plead innocent through reason of insanity, was asked by a reporter if Ray showed any sign of insanity. "None," he replied and emphasized.

Vietnam Is No. 1 Issue - Fulbright

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., campaigning for re-election, declared Thursday that the Vietnam war was "the only thing that seriously threatens the growth of life in Arkansas and the United States."

Fulbright, kicking off a long day of political speeches at the annual Fourth of July picnic at Portia, said he hoped the peace talks at Paris would be successful, thus providing him "the greatest relief to the greatest worry I have."

Three of the four persons seeking Fulbright's seat also spoke at Portia, while the other, Jim Johnson, told a holiday audience at Harrison that Fulbright was the "pin-up boy of Hanol."

None of the veteran senator's opposition has taken his dove's stand on the conflict in Southeast Asia.

Democrats Foster Johnson of Little Rock and Bobby K. Hayes of Calco Rock and Republican Charles Bernard of Earle all attacked Fulbright's foreign policy.

Foster Johnson classified Fulbright as one who "would sell the American birthright for political affluence."

He called the Communists a tremendous menace to the United States despite their small numbers. Johnson said the reasons for this were public apathy and official blindness.

Hayes said he had spoken to several Arkansans during his three-day trip to Vietnam recently.

"Those boys weren't on rest and recreation," Hayes said. "They were wounded for you and me."

Hayes also proposed a $2.50 an hour minimum wage and said he favored Medicare from the cradle on up.

Bernard said, "While our young men died for freedom, can we afford the time to question why we were there in the first place?"

He quoted Fulbright as saying two years ago that Red China would have such internal problems that it wouldn't soon be able to develop a device for transporting nuclear weapons.

"We read now that Red China has developed an ICBM that can endanger this very nation," Bernard said.

Fulbright also spoke at Marquette where he said the development of "hate groups" was one of the most distressing recent occurrences in the United States.

"It's distressing that this has carried over to elections and this should be condemned," Fulbright said.

phazized that the plea of insanity was only one of a number which might be used.

But Hanes insisted the man he would be seeing was Ramon George Sneyd, not James Earl Ray as claimed by the U.S. government and accepted by the British court which agreed to extradite him last Tuesday.

Hanes said his client might plead innocent or innocent by reason of insanity to charges brought against him.

He added: "Of course, he may not be extradited. I am not certain that he will be."

Regarding the identity of the man wanted in the slaying of King, Hanes said: "He is Ramon George Sneyd as far as I am concerned. This man has identified himself as such. I am saying that the U.S. government and the authorities of Tennessee have the burden to prove otherwise."

"It will have no bearing in Tennessee that the British courts say he is James Earl Ray."

King was assassinated April 4 in Memphis, Tenn., and a worldwide manhunt began for James Earl Ray.

Ray was arrested at London Airport June 8 by Scotland Yard agents and accused of using a forged Canadian passport in the name of Sneyd and possessing an unlicensed gun. Those charges are still pending.

On the third hole of the wildly beautiful Mauna Kea course, an arm of the Pacific Ocean lies between tee and green, a duffer's nightmare requiring a shot of at least 150 yards. With photographers recording every move, Rockefeller made it look easy, rapping a 180-yard shot over the waves to the apron.

It was no less spectacular than his performance on the par-four second hole, where he uncorked a 240-yard drive and followed up with a 75-yard wedge shot that plopped obediently into the cup.

Rockefeller planned to hop to Honolulu today to meet Hawaiian delegates to the Republican national convention. He will return to active campaigning Sunday.

McCarthy proposed stockpiling of wheat, feed grains, soybeans and other agricultural products as he spoke in Corning, Iowa, where the National Farmers Organization has its headquarters.

Members of the NFO, one of the most militant of the nation's farm organizations, occasionally have held their animals and crops off the market in order to pressure middlemen into guaranteeing higher prices to farmers.

The organization's collective bargaining approach was praised by McCarthy.

Nigeria Is Engulfed in Civil War

LAGOS (AP) - Nigeria, a country of vast potential riches and the most populous nation in Africa, continues to wallow in a bloody, year-old civil war and efforts to arrange a cease-fire have so far been futile.

The federal government in Lagos holds the upper hand in the fighting and has occupied large chunks of the secessionist Eastern Region - Biafra - and most of the area's major cities.

Both sides would like to end the conflict that has driven the country to the edge of ruin, created millions of refugees in Biafra and killed untold numbers of Nigerians.

But cease-fire negotiations in May broke down in disagreement over conditions. The Biafrans want an unconditional cease-fire and withdrawal of federal troops. Lagos wants assurances, before it withdraws its forces, that Biafra will rejoin the federation as three separate states.

Contacts are continuing and there is a possibility new talks may begin in London.

Meanwhile, the situation in Biafra grows more and more desperate. There are an estimated 4.5-million refugees in what is left of Biafra and a generation of youngsters in the area is being crippled by protein starvation, relief officials say.

International relief agencies say that as many as a million Biafrans will die of starvation before the end of summer unless more food can be supplied to the Biafrans, now jammed into about 10,000 square miles of what already was the most densely populated territory of Africa.

The area is under tight blockade by the Lagos government and the federal air force of Somalia.

via-built MIGs and Czech-made Delfins controls the air. Federal capture in May of Port Harcourt, Biafra's largest city and its main depot for airlifted supplies, tightened the ring on Biafra.

Li. Col. Odumegwa Ohtwu, the secessionist leader, vowed at the time the Biafrans would maintain guerrilla operations from the back country.

In June, Biafra began broadcasting appeals for massive relief shipments and said refugees were dying by the thousands.

To maintain its stance of independence from Lagos, Biafra does not want the aid passed through federal hands.

But in New York this week, a federal spokesman said: "All ports and major airports are in federal hands so it is impossible to channel supplies to Biafran refugees without going through federal authorities."

Chief Anthony Enahoro, negotiator for the federal government, said of reports that millions of Biafrans will starve in the next few months, "It is quite clear they are attempting to exploit the sympathies of the outside world for the purpose of their military interests."

"There is an attempt to blame us for the effects of the war," said Enahoro. "The quickest way to stop all this is for them to stop secession."

He said the federal government has left open avenues for supplies to reach Biafra and has offered trucks to move relief supplies. "But the rebels say, oh, no. What they want is an unconditional cease-fire."

He blamed Biafra for delays in reaching a cease-fire.

Nigeria seemed to have a bright future in 1960 when it gained independence from Britain. It had an estimated $55-million people and huge untapped resources. But seething tribal animosity finally brought the country to civil war.

more than 35 of the 100-pound Russian 122mm rockets which have been used in recent weeks, plus more than 1,000 smaller bazooka-type rockets. A more thorough search was under way today, but military spokesmen said it was hindered by a large assortment of boobytraps.

The cache is only 10 miles from a big U.S. base at Da Nang, which came under a 500-round rocket and mortar attack earlier Thursday. Cooks, clerks, and drivers helped infantrymen repel enemy commandos in a 2 1/2-hour battle at the base.

Two other rocket caches were seized six miles east of Saigon Wednesday and Thursday. These included both 122mm rockets and Chinese 107mm rockets, which weigh about 50 pounds.

In other action Thursday, U.S. Marines suffered four killed and 13 wounded in a 40-minute engagement with about 150 North Vietnamese troops. The Marine company was covering the withdrawal from the Khe Sanh combat base when the enemy attacked with small arms, machine guns and rocket-propelled grenades. A U.S. spokesman said 17 enemy bodies were found after the battle.

South Vietnamese infantrymen reported killing 22 enemy soldiers on the eastern flank of the demilitarized zone, near Gio Linh. Spokesmen said government losses were one killed and two wounded.

Also along the DMZ, enemy gunners shot down a helicopter from the 101st Air Cavalry Division, killing three of the four crewmen and wounding the other.

MONDAY, JULY 8
The Faith Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church will meet Monday, July 8th at 7:30 in the home of Mrs. J. O. Luck on the Washington road. Associate members are urged to attend. Mrs. Paul Church and Mrs. Leo Hartsfield are co-hostess.

MELROSE CLUB MEETS

The Melrose Extension Home-makers Club met at the Fair Park on Tuesday. The group sang "Red River Valley" and the Devotional was given Revisions 10th to 20th. Due to illness some of the Leader Reports were omitted. A Pot Luck was served to four members and four visitors. The next meeting will be on July 16th at the Park at 2:00 p.m., with the President Mrs. A. C. Kirby presiding over the meeting.

PATIO PARTY HONORS BRIDE-ELECT

The Thomas E. Hays, Jr. home on South Spruce Street in Hope was the setting for a patio party honoring Miss Tena Louise Pihlstrom and her fiancé, Thomas F. Carter of New Orleans, on Saturday, June 22. Dinner was served buffet-style with a menu reminiscent of New Orleans and the Old South. The 20 guests were seated at tables centered with brightly colored patio candles.

Following the dinner, Miss Pihlstrom and Mrs. Carter opened surprise patio gifts from each of the couples present. The gifts were brought into the den by the host and hostess on a tea cart which had been decorated with white wedding bows. The honored couple was presented a lazy Susan by Mr. and Mrs. Hays.

Among the out-of-town guests were Miss Susan Marie Haralson of Pine Bluff and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Scott of Little Rock.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWERS HONOR BRIDE-ELECT

Miss Gail Hartsfield, bride-elect of Paul Harvel of Ft. Worth, was honored with two miscellaneous showers recently by friends in Hope. On June 25 in the educational building of the Garrett Memorial Baptist Church members of the Builders Sunday School Class were hostesses for the occasion. The bride-elect wore a yellow whipped cream frock and pinned a white corsage at her shoulder. The many pretty and useful gifts were displayed on a T-shaped table.

A tiny bride and groom centered the serving table, which was decorated in tangerine and white, the chosen colors for the wedding. About 34 guests attended this entertainment.

Mrs. Clifton Booth's home was the scene of another shower for Miss Hartsfield on June 28. Co-hostesses were Mesdames Lyle Allen, Edward Hartsfield, Houston Schooley, and Bill Cross.

A pastel flowered dress was the choice of Miss Hartsfield for this party. She and her mother, Mrs. Herbert Hartsfield, each received an attractive corsage. Again, the bride-elect was the recipient of lovely gifts.

Misses Mary Gwen Allen and Nellie Ann Churchwell assisted in serving punch and sand tarts to 30 guests.

Coming, Going

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Henley and family have just returned from a three weeks vacation of visiting relatives and friends in fifteen states. They saw a major league baseball game in St. Louis and one in Bloomington, Minnesota also a Phillies Farm Team game vs the Pheasants in Huron, South Dakota. While in South Dakota they attended the reunion of the 1938 Graduating Class at Redfield, the class of Mrs. Henley.

Mrs. Leona Schoonhoven and Cheryl Hiteman, both of Forrester, Ill., have been visiting the Bob Moers family.

Experiment in Ice Cream

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Here's a scoop. The Navy is conducting an experiment aboard the guided missile cruiser Springfield to determine the feasibility of serving ice cream in cones aboard ship.

The 30-day experiment began June 14 while the Springfield, flagship for the commander of the U.S. 2nd Fleet, was in the torrid Caribbean.

If it's successful, ships with soft-serve ice cream machines will be authorized to buy wafers, cups, and ice cream cones which will be available when the ships are in port.

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD DALE TOMPKINS

Miss Judith Kay Steadman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Ray Steadman, became the bride of Richard Dale Tompkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Tompkins of Patmos, in a ceremony performed at 7:30 p.m. in the Steadman home, on June 15.

A picture of Christ praying in the garden between two baskets of pink and white mums with summer greenery was the setting for the double ring ceremony officiated by Rev. Tommy Simmons. The bride was given in marriage by her father. The bride wore a street-length gown of white alençon lace over satin. Her illu-sion veil was attached to a head-dress of lace and pearl sprays. She carried a colonial bouquet of white and pink roses.

Mrs. James Wright attended her sister as matron of honor and best man for the bridegroom was Mr. Phil Camp.

A reception was held following the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with a white linen cloth centered with a large miniature bell which held white ribbons. The wedding cake decorated with pink roses and a bride and groom was served by Mrs. Ira House. Miss Helen McCorkle presided at the punch service.

Miss Patsy Diane Harfield registered guests at the bride's table. Other dispensing courtesies were Miss Mary House and Mary Gaines. For travel, the bride chose a rose dress of silk shantung. She pinned a corsage of pink rosebuds on her shoulder and wore matching accessories. After a short trip the couple will be at home on East Division Street. Out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Steadman and Kaylea, Mrs. Dean Steadman, Miss Mary Janet Steadman, Mr.

Change Your Hairstyle

If you are planning a switch from miniskirts to midi, make certain you are ready for the change. The current look is one of old-fashioned softness with new-fashioned charm and your hairstyle should reflect this. The word from many leading hairstylists is that the curly "Little Orphan Annie" style will sweep out the ever-popular straight ones. Others favor a mild hairstyle, neither curly nor straight, but a flattering compromise.

NOTEBOOK

By JOAN CROSSBY
NEA Entertainment Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The trouble with most beauty contest winners is that they are so predictable it would be possible to write a standard contest winner's story and run it year after year, changing only the girl's name and the contest. Which is why Didi Anstett, recently chosen Miss U.S.A., is so refreshing.

Didi is a tall, scrubbed, pink-cheeked brunette beauty who will be representing her country in the Miss Universe Pageant, to be seen on CBS-TV on July 13. She is the second oldest of a Kirkland, Wash., family of nine. "We have a sign on our front lawn that says 'Population: 11,'" she smiles. And she tells of a telegram she got from her older brother, the married one, after she won the contest. "Congratulations. Don't get too cocky," it said.

It would probably be impossible for this girl to get cocky. She is too interested in the people and things around her to get wrapped up in herself. During our lunch, she was much more interested in my reactions to a trip behind the Iron Curtain than she was in with the characters on the movie screen must therefore be established.

Each of the five CBS Playhouse productions to date has been written expressly for the medium, and each has had a life—a world—of its own and a point of view rooted in reality. To be specific, take the most recent Playhouse presentation, Tad Mosel's "Secrets." Its theme was the broad issue of invasion of privacy, but its story was an intensely personal and individual one. And that story was told in a form which the author freely admits was unsuited for the stage or motion pictures.

It has been said that the Playhouse is challenging dramatists who claim that there is no place in television today for the kind of work they want to do.

Because there are so few original plays on television, they are presented as "specials," and the Playhouse is no exception to that blanket term. From CBS's point of view, it is more difficult to do four or five of these plays a season than to do a weekly dramatic production. If you're going to do only four or five then they must really and truly be special in every sense. That, in essence, is what CBS Playhouse is all about.

NEW YORK (AP) — What is there about the CBS Playhouse concept that is supposed to make this series different? Do we at CBS have any particular ground rules calculated to achieve something more "special" than has been done in television drama in the past?

Indeed we have. The concept of the series is a writer's theater. The ground rules are equally uncomplicated: the plays commissioned, developed and finally selected for production must be original, contemporary and specifically designed for the medium of television.

Since this is a writer's theater — and to accomplish what we want to accomplish — the writer must be given his head to write that which he sincerely desires to write. In the vernacular of the moment, he must be allowed to do his own thing. Writers for the Playhouse choose those topics which genuinely concern them and engage their imagination and their urgent feelings. To quote E. B. White: "Whoever sets a pen to paper, writes of himself knowingly or not."

But authors who "set a pen to paper" for a CBS Playhouse production must write in terms of a medium where intimacy, closeups and detailed exploration of character best tell a story; where broad issues must be dramatized through personal and particular conflicts. Television audiences may number in the millions, but plays are actually viewed in small groups, often by only one person. A strong emotional identification with the characters on the movie screen must therefore be established.

school. She is currently majoring in English and minoring in drama at the University of Washington, although her Miss U.S.A. activities have forced her to drop a quarter.

Would she like to be an actress? "Well, I have been offered a contract. I enjoy being in front of an audience. Do I have musical talent? I sing in church and everyone turns around and tells me to be quiet. My mother is a talented singer. I can't help wondering what happened to all my notes."

This is a new term for your laundry. Tap temperature describes water as it flows from the cold-water faucet—usually ranging from 50 to 90 degrees—used to soak certain stains which are set by heat. The fabric, may, subsequently, be washed in warm water or hot suds as usual.

STANCHEST CRITIC STRIKES AGAIN

Dear Woman Hater: Once again your biased, unsympathetic advice to the poor miserable wife on nerve pills gives proof and credence to your cruel, sadistic sporting attitude toward women. (Note from H: I merely asked, "Did the bad marriage cause the nerves, or the nerves cause the bad marriage?")

I notice when a man's sins of omission are revealed, and his greedy, selfish nature is exposed, you are at a loss for words to give sound, justifiable advice to long-suffering, respectable wives and mothers.

My advice to this wife is to give her good-for-nothing husband a heart attack and stroke by putting him up to his neck in debt. That's the best solution to mates who show their true nature which is invariably greedy, selfish, mean, unfaithful, cruel and inhuman. (Note from H: This is sound, justifiable reasoning?)

Boy, do you play favorites. And why don't you print my letters. Are you scared to face the truth?—H.F.

Dear H: I print about one of your letters a year; they're too repetitious to use often. Sorta cringe each time, as I hate to see a woman make a fool of herself, even though she asks for it. My condolences to your husband, if you have one, and if you haven't, keep it that way! Single acrimony suits you better. —H

Dear Helen: Here's my version of WHAT IS A HUSBAND?

He's the biggest worry of your marriage, but the most wonderful man in the world.

He's the guy who makes you cry, but always wipes away the tears.

He's the one who is always right, even if things turn out wrong.

He's the man who hollers, "Hurry up!", but can't remember when he was late.

He's the male who flirts with pretty women, but "never notices another female!"

He's the guy who never gets jealous, as long as you don't talk to another man.

He's a typical male who likes short skirts, so long as his wife doesn't wear them.

He's the supporter of the family, but the one who is always broke.

He's great at putting things out of place, but never remembers where he got them.

He's the one who starts the arguments, and waits for you to apologize.

He hates to get involved in housework, but he's the first to help if you're sick.

He's the man you chose out of the whole world, but you wonder what made you get married.

You sometimes don't know what you'll do with him but you wonder what you would ever do without him...

... Because you just can't help loving that funny, nutty, exasperating, terrific guy who is — YOUR HUSBAND

Thanks for listening. — J. O. (HIS WIFE)

Jockey Swaps Horses by Helicopter

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Manny Yeaza showed with Damascus, placed with a helicopter and won with Dark Mirage.

Damascus carried the veteran jockey home third behind Dr. Fager and Bold Hour Thursday in the $107,100, 1 1/4-mile Suburban Handicap at Aqueduct.

About 23 minutes later a helicopter placed Yeaza at Monmouth Park, 25 air miles from Aqueduct.

Dark Mirage then carried him home: first in the $54,650 Monmouth Oaks over 1 1/4 miles.

The Suburban and Monmouth Oaks were the headliners of a busy Fourth of July stakes program.

Saturday's stakes card will feature the $100,000-added, 1 1/4-mile Hollywood Derby for 3-year-olds at Hollywood Park.

Yeaza had Damascus close to Dr. Fager for most of the Suburban, but Mrs. Edith W. Bancroft's 1967 Horse of the Year faded in the stretch as Dr. Fager raced to a two-length victory over George D. Widener's Bold Hour.

Damascus was another three lengths back, followed by Paul Mellon's Amerigo Lady and Mrs. Frances Genter's In Reality.

Dr. Fager, owned by William L. McKnight and carrying 132 pounds, one less than Damascus, broke the stakes record of 2:00 3/5 and tied the track record of 1:59 3/5.

The first prize of $69,615 out of the gross purse of $107,100 boosted Dr. Fager's career earnings to $776,237. The $10,700 Damascus earned for third lifted his career bankroll to $943,316.

After the race, Yeaza took off from the Aqueduct infield aboard a chartered helicopter enroute to Monmouth Park and an easy victory aboard Lloyd L. Miller's Dark Mirage, who is making a rout of the 3-year-old filly division.

Dark Mirage, the 710-pound speedster who was a $6,000 yearling, completed the Monmouth Oaks in 1:51 2/5 for her eighth consecutive victory of the year, the last seven coming in stakes. Singing Rain finished second, four lengths behind, and Guest Room third.

Leads Girls in Golf, But Not Husband

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

REA DING, Pa. (AP) — Mrs. Susie Maxwell Berning had little chance to brag about the two-under-par 69 which gave her the lead after the first round of the 16th annual U.S. Women's Open Golf Championship.

Her husband of seven weeks quickly brought her out of the clouds by disclosing he had to stop playing golf with his bride because he consistently defeated her and deflated her ego.

Dale Berning is a 6-handicap golfer who is in the real estate development business in Nevada. He was a one-man gallery Thursday as his wife charged around the tough, 6,232-yard Moslem Springs Golf Club course to gain a one-stroke lead over four-time national champion Mickey Wright.

"We picked up a few people on the last six holes," said the 29-year-old Berning, "but most of the spectators appeared to be asking 'Who is Mrs. Berning?' and figuring she'd fold."

They apparently forgot that Mrs. Berning was the same Susie Maxwell who tied for second in last year's Open, two strokes behind winner Catherine LaCoste of France.

The 33-year-old Miss Wright, all-time leading money winner among distaff golfers, shot a 34-36—70 in her bid for an unprecedented fifth national title. She won in 1958, 1959, 1961 and 1964.

Home Runs Mark 4th in American

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Great Hit Famine took a back seat Thursday to an old fashioned Fourth of July fireworks show of home runs in Detroit.

Jim Northrup, Norm Cash and Don Mincher took turns hitting baseballs out of sight and when they were through, the Tigers had a 13-10 slugfest victory over California.

It was the fourth straight triumph for the Tigers and ninth in the last 10 games, giving them an 8 1/2 game lead over the rest of the American League.

Northrup and Cash had two homers each for the Tigers and Mincher two for the Angels. Willie Horton and Bill Freehan also connected for Detroit and Jim Fregosi for California as the two teams used up 11 pitchers.

Elsewhere in the American League, Baltimore edged Chicago 4-3 in 12 innings, Cleveland dropped Minnesota 6-3, Boston defeated Oakland 7-2 and Washington whipped New York 4-2.

In the National League, Chicago split a doubleheader with Philadelphia winning 6-2 before losing 7-4. New York split a pair with Pittsburgh, taking the second game 4-3 after losing the opener 3-2, San Francisco whipped Atlanta 6-4, St. Louis edged Los Angeles 3-2 and Cincinnati defeated Houston 7-4.

The Angels scored four fast runs in the second inning with Mincher tagging his first homer and it looked like it might be a good day for Bill Rigney's club.

But the Tigers bounced right back with their biggest lining of the year, scoring nine runs in the bottom of the second with homers by Cash, Freehan and Horton leading the attack.

Northrup had a two-run triple and Dick McAuliffe a two-run double in the big inning. Cash and Northrup hit consecutive homers in the sixth and Northrup slammed a two-run shot in the eighth.

The six homers tied a Detroit club record and gave the team 93 homers for the year—26 of them against California.

Brooks Robinson tagged a pair of homers for the Orioles but Baltimore didn't beat the White Sox until the 12th when Fred Valentine led off with a triple and then strolled home following two intentional walks and one unintentional one.

Chicago had tied the game with two out in the ninth and Pete Ward on first when Bill Voss was hit in the head by a pitch and Duane Josephson followed with a double. Voss suffered a fractured right cheekbone.

Chicago Manager Eddie Stanky ordered Mark Belanger and Dave Johnson intentionally walked following Valentine's triple in the 12th. Then Don Buford drew the third walk that forced Valentine home.

Ed Stroud slashed two doubles and two triples and scored twice, leading Washington past the Yankees. The four hits gave Stroud 11 hits in 21 at bats against the Yankees this season.

Stroud's first double set up Washington's first run and his second two-bagger touched off a two-run Senator rally in the sixth. He tripled and scored on Cap Peterson's single in the eighth.

Reliever Juan Pizarro drove in two runs and pitched one-hit ball for 6 2/3 innings, striking out seven, helping the Red Sox whip Oakland. Pizarro took over in the third for Jose Santiago, whose sore elbow forced him to return. Santiago has been replaced on the All-Star team by Boston teammate Gary Bell.

At Worthington's wild pitch allowed Cleveland's tie-breaking run to score and then Jose Azcue doubled two more runs across as the Indians dropped the Twins. Dean Chance was leading 3-2 going into the eighth but singles by Vern Fuller, Lee Maye and Russ Snyder tied the score. A wild pitch by reliever Ron Perranoski and an intentional walk to Lou Johnson set the stage for Worthington's wild pitch and Azcue's hit.

only bogey of the day to back into a tie with Funseth.

Baird, who earned his way through college by working in Texas oil refineries, had sunk a breaking 18-foot birdie putt on his 17th hole to go five under par. But he three-putted the 415-yard, par-4 ninth closing hole for a bogey after his second shot luckily hit a tree and fell 65 feet from the cup.

Funseth, 35, in his eighth year on the tour, has been known as a long-hitting, but erratic, golfer.

"I didn't lose my temper and started making a few putts," said the soft-spoken Californian whose only victory came in the 1965 Phoenix Open.

Baird, a 31-year-old, nine-year veteran of the pro tour, had a chance to grab the lead on his closing hole but turned in his

PORTLAND, MAINE — Lloyd Bozeman, 172, Newark, N.J., outpointed Pete Riccielli, 173, Portland, 10.

Perry's Truck Stop Independent baseball team recorded its 8th straight victory Wednesday night by blasting Bradley 15-2. The locals have lost one game this season.

Bridy Jordan was the winning pitcher. His record is now 4-1. Brint Odom hit a solo homer for Perry's. Odom, Jim Jordan, Delton Hatfield, Buddy Jordan and Wayne Jordan had two hits each.

Perry's will take on Lone Star of Texarkana Saturday night at Hoxey Legion Field. Wayne Lowe or Wayne Johnson will be scheduled to pitch. Game time is 8:00 p.m.

Pro Gridders Apparently Will Strike

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The strike—if there is one—of the National Football League Players Association now has reached the wait-and-see stage.

"Nobody is on strike now," veteran tackle Alex Karras said in Detroit.

"We won't know until Sunday when San Francisco goes into camp if there's a strike at all."

"All of the players will be on strike if there is no settlement before next week."

John Gordy, president of the Players Association, is maintaining official silence, but scores of players have said they received telegrams from him ordering them not to report until negotiations can be worked out with the owners.

The only official comment since the break-up of a meeting between player representatives and an owners group last week-end came from Art Modell, NFL president.

He said the players had rejected the owner's offer, particularly in the area of improved pension benefits. They apparently agreed on most, if not all, other points.

San Francisco has the first camp opening—for rookies Sunday. Rookies are not members of the Players Association.

Nineteen veteran members of the 49ers, including Howard Mudd, Bruce Bosley, Ken Willard and Joe Carne, said they would not report at that time.

Veterans were scheduled to report the following week.

Detroit opens its rookie camp July 9, with Detroit and Green Bay scheduled the following day.

San Francisco owner Lou Spada, however, said he did not think a strike would take place. "I'm optimistic that it can be settled quickly," he said.

Gordy, however, has declined comment on whether future talks between player representatives and owners are scheduled.

Veteran Pair Lead Tourney in Michigan

GRAND BLANC, Mich. (AP) — A couple of journeyman pros with only two PGA tournament victories between them shared the lead going into today's second round of the $125,000 Buick Open Golf Tournament.

Rod Funseth of San Jose, Calif., and Butch Baird of Carlton Oaks, Calif., carved four-under-par 68s out of the long-playing 7,001-yard par-72 Warwick Hills Golf and Country Club course Thursday.

Bunched tightly one stroke off the pace were long-hitting Marty Fleckman, South African Harold Henning, Rod Horn of Overland Park, Kan., and Don Feirfield of Palm Springs, Calif.

Defending champion Julius Boros and U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino were with a group of 10 others two strokes behind the leaders.

Baird, a 31-year-old, nine-year veteran of the pro tour, had a chance to grab the lead on his closing hole but turned in his

Hank Aaron Wise-Cracks in Bat Slump

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The All-Star voters, Hank Aaron said about his selection to the National League team, must have voted the first day of the season.

Aaron showed again Thursday why he made that quip. Atlanta's erstwhile batting terror grounded into double plays his last two times at bat as the San Francisco Giants trimmed the Braves 6-4 and tied them for second place.

Aaron's lack of hitting has been evident all season. True, he has hit 15 home runs, second best in the league, and driven in 43 runs, sixth in the NL.

But a large portion of those RBI has not significantly aided the Atlanta attack, and he's hitting an incredibly low .231. That compares with his .316 lifetime average, tops among active players.

Still his fellow players voted him into the starting line-up for the All-Star game in Houston next Tuesday.

Against the Giants Thursday, the 34-year-old Aaron singled in the fifth inning, stole second and scored on Joe Torre's single. But it was a different story each of the other four times he batted, especially the last two.

Coming to the plate in the seventh with Felipe Alou at first base, and the game tied 4-4, Aaron grounded a Frank Linzy pitch to shortstop Hal Lanier, who promptly turned it into a double play.

By the ninth inning the Braves were trailing 6-4, but they rallied and loaded the bases with one out on a walk to Mike Pagan and singles by Alou and Cleto Boyer.

Up stepped Aaron needing only a single to tie the game. Instead he bounced back to Linzy, who flipped to Dick Dietz at the plate for one out, and Dietz fired to first for the final out.

In other NL games, St. Louis edged Los Angeles 3-2, Pittsburgh nipped New York 3-2 before losing 4-3, Philadelphia downed Chicago 7-4 after losing 6-2 and Cincinnati defeated Houston 7-4.

In the American, Detroit out-slugged California 13-10, Baltimore edged Chicago 4-3 in 12 innings, Cincinnati 4-1 and defeated Minnesota 6-3, Boston knocked out Oakland 7-2 and Washington trimmed New York 4-2.

While Linzy was stifling Aaron's bat, the Braves couldn't do anything with Dietz. The Giant catcher drove in four runs with a two-run double in the first and a two-run homer in the seventh that snapped the 4-4 deadlock.

Bobby Bonds contributed a two-run single to the Giants' attack. Mike Shannon's two-run homer in the eighth broke a 1-1 tie and sent the league-leading Cardinals to their fourth straight victory over Los Angeles. Len Gabrielson made it close for the Dodgers with a homer in the bottom of the inning.

Eighth-inning doubles by Donn Clendenon and Bill Mazeroski carried Pittsburgh past New York in the first game and handed Jerry Koosman his fourth loss against 11 victories.

Koosman drove in one of the Mets' runs with a single. Maury Wills stole three bases for the Pirates in the game.

The Mets came back in the nightcap behind Don Bosh, who socked a two-run homer in the third, then doubled and scored in the fifth. Cleon Jones added a homer for the Mets.

Billy Williams ended an 0-for-15 slump by igniting a three-run rally for Chicago in the fourth inning of the opener with a single and then homering in the

Cattfish Farming in Arkansas Booming

By GEORGE PURVIS, Chief
Information-Education Division

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Business is booming in cattfish farming, according to the Department of the Interior's Bureau of Commercial Fisheries (BCF). Cattfish farming, which is booming in Arkansas, is one of America's newest annual multimillion dollar businesses.

In 1963, cattfish farming was one of the smallest of small businesses, with only a few thousand pounds raised annually. But production in recent years has jumped to millions of pounds, with Mississippi, Arkansas, and Texas leading the way. Cattfish farms are operated in the Mississippi River drainage areas of other states in the central and southern portion of the nation.

At present, farm-raised cattfish are available almost exclusively in restaurants as a gourmet item, but it is believed that eventually the farm-raised product may be marketed through retail stores. Cattfish farms offer the customer a consistently high-quality product that is rich in protein and is fed a controlled diet to result in a distinct and ever-present good flavor. Commercially raised cattfish can be processed as a fresh or frozen product.

One of the most profitable aspects of cattfish farming is supplying fee fishing lakes. The fish are transported in tank trucks from the fish farms to lakes where fishermen pay the lake operator a certain amount for each pound of fish caught.

In the past few years cattfish farmers have demonstrated a marked ability to increase production. The BCF predicted several years ago that a rapid growth of cattfish farming would come about and has been of great assistance in the gradual growth of the industry.

Cattfish farming is the latest development in warm-water fish farming, which first reached significant commercial importance in the late 1940's with the production of bait minnows. In the 1950's land made idle by rice crop rotation on Arkansas farms was flooded to form lakes for the raising of various commercial species.

Fish hatched in the spring of one year are ready for market as three-quarter to 1 1/2 - pound fish in the fall of the following year. More than 20 species of cattfish and close relatives may be raised, but most concentrate on the channel cattfish. In recent years a few cattfish farmers have raised the Arkansas golden cattfish, a permanent strain of albino channel cattfish first reared at the Commission's Centerton hatchery.

"WORMY" FISH OK TO EAT
LITTLE ROCK — During the drier part of the year fishermen often catch bass from small streams with small worm-like protrusions in the body of the fish. Too often the fish is deemed "wormy" or unfit to eat and is thrown back in the river to waste away. Actually, no harm will come from eating the fish if it is properly cooked.

A grub, reports Fisheries Division chief Bill Mathis, is responsible for the cysts. The grub attaches itself to the fish and burrows its way under the skin and into the edible portion. Other than possibly causing the fish to look anything but edible, the grub does not affect the table quality of the fish.

FISHING ADAGE DEBUNKED
YUMA, Ariz. — Some fishermen believe once a fish tastes the point of a hook, or if he frees himself from your hook he'll not hit again. A fisherman in Arizona has proven otherwise by catching a whopper largemouth bass. The fish had managed to bust a heap of lines and was still carrying a plastic worm, one Loco lure, a Royal Coachman fly, a doughball type of treble hook, and four worm fishermen's hooks either inside or outside the body. Length of the fish was 21 inches, and its weight was 10 pounds — including the fishing hardware.

49ers Trade Stickles to the Saints

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco 49ers of the National Football League have traded veteran tight end Monty Stickles to New Orleans and may lose former star pass catcher Dave Parks to the same club.

General Manager Jack White confirmed today that Stickles has been traded to the Saints, but declined to say for whom. The Saints are to report that.

Saint quarterback Bill Kilmer, a former 49er, said his club is dickering with Parks, who played out his option with the 49ers last season.

Stickles, 30, was a first-round pick in the 1962 draft and has been a key player for the 49ers. He has played in 47 games and has 10 interceptions.

Parks, 28, was a first-round pick in the 1961 draft and has been a key player for the 49ers. He has played in 47 games and has 10 interceptions.

Denver BB Pros Sign Pickens

DENVER (AP) — The Denver Rockets of the American Basketball Association Thursday signed Bill Pickens, a 6-foot-10 255-pound Georgia southern graduate. Pickens was on the taxi squad of the Kansas City Chiefs of the American Football League during 1966 and part of 1967.

Tennis Pros to Demand More Cash

By GEOFFREY MILLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — The professional tennis stars, only partly successful at the first-ever open Wimbledon, may press for bigger prize money next year.

George MacCall, the promoter who runs the National Tennis League, said its organization would have lost $20,000 by entering its stars in the Wimbledon tournament—even if they had cleaned up all the prize money.

One of MacCall's stars, Australian Rod Laver, plays in the first prize of $4,800 with $3,120 day's final. None of the other five reached the quarter-finals.

MacCall said: "We have to support Wimbledon, which is a symbol of world tennis. But we can't go on supporting Wimbledon."

MacCall reportedly has suggested that next year prize money should be distributed among professionals—and registered amateurs playing for prize money—according to the order in which they finish. At present, if an amateur wins the prize money goes back into the kitty.

The All-England Club, which runs the Wimbledon tournament, offered $62,400 in prize money altogether. At present, it looks as if almost half of it will not be paid out because amateurs did better than many of the pros.

In today's men's singles final Laver faced Tony Roche, another Australian who is a member of the rival "Handsome Eight" troupe. They are battling for the first prize of $4,800 with $3,120 day's final.

The two defeated semifinalists were American amateurs—Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., symbol of world tennis. But we and Clark Graebner of New York—so the tournament officials saved a total of $3,600 there.

There's also a 50-50 chance that the women's first prize of $1,800 will go back into the pot. The final will be played Sunday between the defending champion, Mrs. Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., who is under contract to MacCall and is going for the prize, and Australian amateur Judy Tegart, who is competing for expenses only.

Mrs. King overcame her old professional rival, Mrs. Ann Jones of Britain, 4-6, 7-5, 6-2 Thursday.

Miss Tegart upset United States Wightman Cup star Nancy Richey of San Angelo, Tex., 6-3, 6-1.

A cultivated plant's origin can be best ascertained by finding the place where ancestral forms still grow wild. For example, the riddle of the watermelon's origin was solved when David Livingston, the explorer, found wild watermelons growing profusely in central Africa.

Yarborough and Mercury Break Record

By FRANK MURRAY
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — For William Caleb Yarborough speed is a way of life—the normal, slow way of doing things just doesn't agree with this son of a South Carolina tobacco farmer.

Yarborough—just "Cale" to fans of late model stock car racing—fractured the auto racing record book Thursday when he breezed to a 167.247 miles an hour victory in an accident-free Firecracker 400.

That's about 14 miles an hour faster than it has ever been done before and eclipses all-time race records at Daytona and even Indianapolis.

Cale's reaction? A smile on his boyish face and a prediction he'll snap the magic 190 m.p.h. mark in qualifying here next February if the rules aren't changed on him.

But it is not just at the wheel of his Mercury—which easily outpaces the two-engine plane Cale pilots—that Cale Yarborough dwells on speed.

The 29-year-old has a young dry cleaning business and even that sideline business pushes speed under the name "60-Minute Dry Cleaners."

His pit crew tops the 22-gallon gas tank and changes two tires in about 18 seconds, fast enough for Cale to turn the trick Thursday four times without giving away a lead or a lap. He was out front for 142 of the 160 laps. He has 1968 winnings of $96,781.

If being first has become a habit for Cale, being second is becoming almost as much of a habit for Lee Roy Yarborough of Columbia, S.C.—no relation but driver of a Mercury that is twin to Cale's.

Lee Roy was second at the Daytona 500 in February, the Atlanta 500 in April and again Thursday in the Firecracker 400 which Cale called "the easiest big race I've ever won."

Yarborough was two laps back at the Firecracker finish but still captured $8,595 for his trouble.

The Yarborough-Yarborough Mercurs continued Ford Motor Co.'s domination over the Plymouth-Dodge entries although each side on the corporate battle took five slots of the top 10.

Mercurs were one-two with David Pearson of Spartanburg, S.C., in a Ford finishing third.

Darel Dieringer, Charlotte, N.C., was fourth in a Plymouth but Dwayne "Tiny" Lund of Cross, S.C., put Ford back on the plus side with his Mercury in fifth.

Dodge took the next four slots with Paul Goldsmith, Munster, Ind., sixth; Bud Moore, Charlotte, N.C., seventh; Bobby Isaac, Catawba, N.C., eighth, and pole-sitter Charlie Glotzbach, Georgetown, Ind., ninth.

Jim Hurtubise of North Tonawanda, N.Y., rounded out the first 10 in a Mercury.

Overloaded Florida Boat Drowns 7

LAKE WALES, Fla. (AP) — Seven children on a holiday outing and a man who was giving them a boatride drowned Thursday when their 12-foot outboard flipped over, hurling them into Lake Easy about five miles south of here.

The only survivor was an 11-year-old girl who clung to the overturned boat and was rescued by a vacationing deputy sheriff.

"When the first car got there, the families of the kids were wading around in the water, crying and searching for bodies," said Capt. Earl Branch of the Polk County sheriff's department. "None of them could swim."

The families were making an all-day Fourth of July outing of it, said a nearby cottage owner. "They had set up their picnic stuff early in the morning."

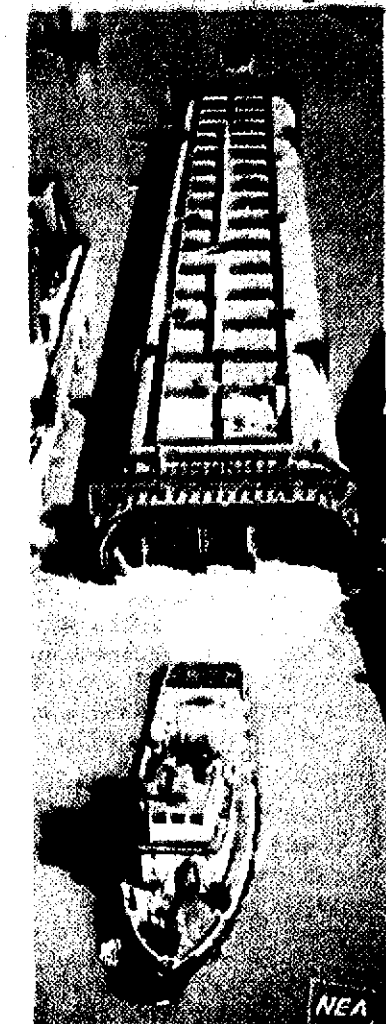

Branch said William Harrell, 35, of Lake Wales, loaded the eight children into the boat for a ride around the small lake.

Raymond Parks of Winter Haven said he was fishing nearby when the boat started swinging toward the picnic site on the bank.

He said the boat rolled over in the middle of the turn, pitching its cargo of children into 15 feet of water about 100 yards from shore.

Branch said Deputy Ray Greubel, who was camping with his family nearby, swam to the overturned boat and found Harrell and Venera Clay clinging to its side.

Witnesses said the girl lost her hold on the boat and both men attempted to save her. The deputy grasped the girl and brought her back to the boat, Branch said. But when he

Patterson to Get 3rd Shot at Title

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Floyd Patterson gets a chance in September to become a heavyweight boxing champion for the third time.

The New Yorker signed Thursday to meet Jimmy Ellis of Louisville, Ky., Sept. 14 for the World Boxing Association version of the heavyweight title.

The fight will be held in the 52,000-seat Raasunda soccer stadium with Ellis defending the WBA crown he won last April by defeating Jerry Quarry in Los Angeles.

Clay was stripped of title recognition by the WBA and the New York Athletic Commission when he refused military induction into the U.S. armed forces.

Russia Ahead on Subs, Says Rickover

WASHINGTON (AP) — Civilians in the Pentagon and proponents of surface ships are blocking development of U.S. submarines while Russia is far ahead in numbers of undersea craft, charges Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover.

The principal tactic being used to delay submarine progress is "to study things to death," Rickover adds.

This is particularly true, he says, of his proposal for a new superquiet sub that could be used to track Russian missile-carrying submarines.

Rickover, known as the father of the nuclear submarine, commented in testimony before the Senate preparedness subcommittee in March and a transcript of the testimony was released Thursday night.

He said the Navy agreed last December that it needed a new sub, but that Dr. John S. Foster, director of defense research and engineering and principal adviser to the secretary of defense on such matters, has kept asking for more studies.

"Since Dr. Foster got the problem, he has made four or five studies... what the next delaying tactic will be I simply don't know," Rickover said.

Foster, in a later appearance before the subcommittee, said he supported the effort to lower submarine noise levels, but thought other things should be considered before building what might be an expensive, one-of-a-kind vessel.

turned around, Harrell had gone under.

Greubel recovered a second little girl, but could not revive her when they reached shore.

The bodies were recovered during a three-hour search by divers and men in boats with grappling hooks.

The dead were listed as Harrell, Belinda Clay, 12, and her 14-year-old sister, Cynthia of Lakeland; their cousin, Jimmie, Elaine Clay, 9, and Sheila Jennings, 8, Carolyn Jones, 11, Cynthia Jackson, 7, and Rhonda Tucker, 10, all of Lake Wales.

BURMA'S PAST, which began before many of today's great nations existed, was one of beauty and wonder including the "Golden City" of Mandalay. Today, 20 years after obtaining independence from the British, Burma is still flailing awkwardly in a sea of economic problems.

OXCARTS, left, move through Mandalay en route to threshing mills. Once Asia's biggest rice exporter, Burma instituted rationing last year. There are no traffic jams on Mandalay's streets.

WATER TAXIS deliver passengers in Rangoon, where boatmen get lots of trade because it sometimes takes five weeks to purchase a tire for a bicycle, a chief means of transportation.

suit represents possible defense. No cards in an opponent's bid suit represents a possible cheap save.

Therefore the expert would lead his ace of spades at trick three and pick up the queen when East showed out.

Q—The bidding has been:
West North East South
1 ♠ 1 ♠ 1 ♠ 1 ♠
Pass 4 ♠ Pass 3 ♠
Pass 4 ♠ Pass ?

You, South, hold:
♠ A ♠ K ♠ Q ♠ 10 ♠ 9 ♠ 8 ♠ 7 ♠ 6 ♠ 5 ♠ 4 ♠ 3 ♠ 2 ♠

What do you do now?
A—It looks as if your partner has some sort of black two suiter. Bid five clubs. He will go to six with good clubs and two aces.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of opening one club your partner opens one diamond. You hold the hand shown above. What do you do?

When an expert stops to think over a play of the hand
you can be sure of two things.
The first is that he has something to think about, and the second is that he will probably solve his problem.

When an ordinary player stops to think you can be equally sure that he has something to think about but you can't always be sure he will solve his problem.

There is nothing wrong with the North-South bidding.
South has almost enough to open with a forcing two bid and can certainly afford to go to a slam after North jumps to game.

The slam also is one that will make. Unless all three trumps show up in one hand there is no defense. Even with all trumps in one hand, South makes his contract if he guesses which opponent will hold the queen.

The play starts with West opening his ace of clubs and continuing the suit. South is in with the king and right here is where South should take a little time to decide whether to lead the ace or a low spade.

An expert would surely lead the ace of spades. He would note that West had a club suit headed by the ace but had not got into the bidding against vulnerable opponents.
That might indicate to some players that he did not also hold the queen of spades but to an expert it would indicate that West would be most unlikely to hold no spades at all.
People try to get into the bidding when they are not vulnerable and when they think they don't have much defense. The queen of an opponent's bid

QUICK QUIZ

BLONDIE

Q—Why is atomic energy often referred to as nuclear energy?
A—Because it is the nucleus of the atom that explodes during fission, that emits rays in radioactivity and provides energy for the atomic age.
Q—How did the federal government honor Casey Jones, railroad hero in folklore?
A—In April, 1950, the U.S. Postal Service issued a stamp bearing his name and likeness.

Editor Reports
on a Quick Tour of the Southeast

Your editor returned home the afternoon of the Fourth from a week at Sarasota, Fla., visiting an ailing brother-in-law, whom we found better than expected, and bringing back the boat I left there in September 1966.

It had to be a quick trip because Managing Editor Paul H. Jones and his family started a three-week vacation in California July 3 and I was scheduled to hold down the news desk for him beginning this morning. My own journey was 2,500 miles, it being 1,100 miles from here to south Florida—a two-day passage with or without a boat and trailer.

If you are planning a vacation in the Southeast I have a suggestion. The highways split at Pensacola, Fla. No. 98 is the coast route, through Fort Walton and Panama City. No. 90 is the trunk road to Tallahassee. Unless you are going to Walton or Panama City I suggest you avoid 98 and stick to 90. The beach route, 98, is full of restricted zones—25 or 30 miles an hour—because of the jam-packed beaches at this season.

I figured this out and drove No. 90 to Tallahassee, then down the peninsula to Sarasota in 11 1/2 days. But coming back, dragging the boat, I had an unfortunate urge to view the beaches once more, took No. 98—and wasted an hour or more in dense traffic.

No. 90 has the additional advantage of 40 to 50 miles of interstate 10, although it lacks more than 100 miles of being completed into the Florida capital.

On the return trip with the boat I made it from Sarasota to Mobile, Ala., 599 miles, last Tuesday, went on to Jackson, Miss., Wednesday morning, putting up that afternoon and night with Clarence Chapman, the Fairchild sales engineer who sold me the Star's big press. Clarence took me over Jackson's big Pearl River Reservoir in his boat Wednesday afternoon—and I found the lake nearly a carbon copy of our Millwood . . . a big pool in front of the dam, trailing off 40 miles up a flooded river. It's a beautiful recreation development and a great tribute to the independence of the people of Mississippi.

Not a dime of federal funds went into the Pearl River Reservoir. It was constructed by a water district formed by five counties, and financed by land sales and leases around the huge lake. Half the population of Mississippi was headed for that area July 3.

The weather on my trip? It rained every day I was gone—except Wednesday, July 3. I had rain in five states, and two storms while in Sarasota.

I was supposed to take my boat down the Intracoastal Waterway to Fort Myers, but the weather prevented. I had to settle for two short excursions with my nephew, Capt. Murray W. Gibson, home from the Green Berets in Vietnam because of the illness of his father, F. M. Gibson. But the latter was improved. "Pete" and I left Sarasota together last Tuesday morning, he to Fort Benning, Ga., while I headed home with the boat.

SEARCY, Ark. (AP) — Richard Gibson of Longview, Tex., son of the founder of the Gibson Discount Store chain, has been elected to the Board of Trustees at Harding College.

3rd Night of Rioting in Jersey

PATERSON, N.J. (AP) — A third night of disorders subsided following a short rain today after rock-throwing and window-smashing spread outside the Puerto Rican section.

Police reported that 24 persons, all adults, had been arrested Thursday night and today, bringing the total for the three days to 54. They were charged with varied counts of resisting arrest, malicious mischief and loitering.

Three Paterson hospitals reported treating about three dozen injured persons. Many of the injured, however, did not report to hospitals.

Johnson to El Salvador Conference

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer
AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, after observing an old-fashioned Fourth of July, mixes relaxation with a little ranch-style diplomacy today before taking off for a weekend Central American summit conference in El Salvador.

The President and First Lady flew to San Antonio Thursday and spent three hours at HemisFair where Johnson indulged in some traditional patriotic rhetoric, took in the sights and sampled a couple of rather drippy ice cream cones.

The President also issued a statement late in the day expressing deep concern over disruption by hecklers of a speaking appearance by presidential aspirant George Wallace.

Johnson today informally entertains President Rene Barrientos Ortuno of Bolivia at his ranch home, Barrientos was in Texas for Bolivia Day Saturday at HemisFair. The Latin chief executive once attended Air Force flight school at Randolph Air Force Base in San Antonio.

Johnson will fly to El Salvador Saturday for talks with the chief executives of Guatemala, Honduras, Nicaragua, Costa Rica and El Salvador. He will remain there until Monday.

Toughing the fairgrounds with Johnson Thursday were about 40 diplomats, most of them ambassadors from Latin American countries.

The Johnsons made the 75-mile trip from their ranch by helicopter, landing in a parking lot at the world's fair. They drove to the American pavilion where the President received a 21-gun salute before delivering an eight-minute speech.

He said the nation will celebrate July 4 as long as it goes about "its proper business."

"And that proper business is helping to defend and helping to enlarge the independence of man," he said.

Johnson said the theme of the Declaration of Independence, signed 192 years ago, is "political independence to insure individual independence."

"Each generation in America discovers this theme as if it were new," he added. "And in a sense it is new. The thrust of America always, then, is to expand and to adjust the concept of independence to a new and constantly changing era."

In his statement on the heckling of Wallace, which occurred Wednesday night in Minneapolis, the President said:

"The conduct of a handful who interfere with the rights of others to speak is the antithesis of what we began 192 years ago today."

"However ardently we may disagree with what a man says, we must stand with Voltaire in our defense of his right to say what he will."

Johnson said that if every American would listen to every point of view, then decide what is right and exercise his judgment at the ballot box, if "truth is free for all to see, we need never fear any ideology or candidacy."

No Clue in Attack on Slayer's Kin

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Police say lack of evidence is hindering their investigation of a report that Saidallah Bishara Sirhan, brother of the man charged with murdering Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, was fired at on a highway.

Police said they were without clues to locating a white Volkswagen bus from which Sirhan said two shots were fired at him early Wednesday.

Two .38-caliber slugs were recovered from Sirhan's car, but police Lt. Gerald Wright said a ballistics test would be useless until the gun which fired the shots can be found.

Sirhan, 35, told police two shots were fired at him from one of two cars which followed him as he drove home on the Pasadena Freeway.

Sirhan's 24-year-old brother Sirhan Bishara Sirhan, awaits trial in Los Angeles in the Kennedy killing.

Prisoner Terrorizes Airliner with 71 Aboard; Is Retaken

By MIKE DOAN
Associated Press Writer
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A prisoner aboard an airliner carrying 71 passengers slipped away from his guards long enough to try a daring plot to hijack the plane. Then, he sat back between his guards and waited.

None of the other passengers aboard the Trans World Airlines plane knew of the threat made quietly by John Hamilton Morris to a stewardess.

"I've got dynamite in this bag. And my two buddies have guns. Turn this plane around and fly it to Hermosillo, Mexico."

The stewardess told the pilot. He told aviation authorities in Los Angeles by radio. At their direction Capt. C. P. Barron changed course. For 20 minutes, while Morris sat between two deputy U.S. marshals, Barron slowly circled southern Nevada.

Then, as Barron sat the Boeing 727 down at McCarran Field, Morris boiled for a door. His guards grabbed and subdued him.

Morris, 48, was taken to Clark County Jail here and the plane, after an hour's delay, continued its flight to San Francisco.

A spokesman for the Federal Bureau of Investigation said Morris would appear before a federal grand jury to answer a possible attempted hijacking charge. He was being flown from prison at Leavenworth, Kan., to San Francisco for an appeal hearing on his 15-year sentence for bank robbery.

Authorities said the two deputy marshals assigned to guard Morris agreed to let him go to a rest room at the front of the plane but didn't realize that he instead stopped and talked with the stewardess in the first-class compartment between the cabin section and the pilots.

Several Las Vegas police officers had entered the plane before the passengers realized what had happened.

"They were kind of startled when they found out," said a TWA spokesman. "But they weren't really frightened."

Spokesman said none of the eight-engine bombers was hit. The B-52s have been fired upon before by the Soviet-made missiles on raids in North Vietnam's southernmost section, but none ever has been hit so far in the war.

The B-52s began a massive bombing campaign Monday against enemy artillery sites and storage areas in the panhandle and the northern part of the demilitarized zone. Since then, they have flown 28 raids in the area.

The giant bombers are considered vulnerable to the enemy high-altitude missiles. U.S. fighter-bombers—faster, smaller and lower-flying—ordinarily attack known enemy missile sites before the B-52s head for the DMZ or North Vietnam, and the B-52s generally try to steer clear of these sites.

In South Vietnam, U.S. infantrymen gingerly probed booby-trapped enemy bunkers today as part of a massive search for weapons that could be used for an attack on Saigon.

Troops of the 1st Division uncovered the enemy bunker complex, which contained the third enemy rocket cache found in the last two days, while screening infiltration routes and supply distribution points 30 miles northwest of the capital Thursday.

Riot Put Down in Memphis

MEMPHIS (AP) — Memphis police responded in force Thursday night to quell a rock and bottle throwing spree in a predominantly Negro sector of the city and one arrest was made.

Officers denied reports by witnesses that nonlethal gas was used and that officers went to excesses in making the arrest of James Neely, 21, who was charged with disorderly conduct.

Charles Johnson and other witnesses who declined to give their names told reporters police used disabling gas, shoved them around and used derogatory language in dispersing a crowd that gathered.

Johnson said, "I saw the police start beating Jesse with a pistol and shotgun after he'd been in a fight with a woman. They sprayed me with mace—I couldn't see and I couldn't breathe."

Chief Insp. W. O. Crumby said only as much force as necessary was used at the scene where he said an officer had his clothes torn.

Crumby said additional cars went to the scene after the crowd started throwing bottles and bricks at the officers who arrested Neely.

Moore has mailed letters to Sens. John L. McClellan and J. William Fulbright asking that they attempt to stop the reductions in Titles I, II and III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act will have an adverse effect on Arkansas school districts.

The House has proposed a cut of slightly more than $2 million in Title I funds for Arkansas. Such funds are used to aid educationally deprived children.

Moore said that approval of the reduction plus additional need for money for mandatory increases in in-service training could cause a cut of more than $2.1 million in professional services, personal services, nonprofessional personnel and other items.

Moore said the proposed reduction in Title II programs would reduce from $1.82 in 1968 to 90 cents in 1969 and the average amount spent per child. The money is used to provide adequate library materials for children who don't have libraries available.

Moore also said the reduction would hurt the programs under Title III, funds for which are used for exemplary and supplementary education centers. He said that during fiscal 1969, Title III will be 100 per cent administered by the states.

Nixon But 39 Votes Short for Holiday of Gop Choice Reaches 224

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the House Republican Conference said today Richard M. Nixon can nail down a first-ballot victory at the Republican national convention with 39 more votes.

Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin also predicted national polls that show Nixon trailing the Democratic contenders will take a new tack once the convention is over.

"I believe that Dick Nixon is behind at the present time merely because he is not speaking out on the issues," the GOP leader said.

Nixon, he said, prefers to have his campaign peak in September and October and hopes to make his big move "as far as the popularity polls are concerned, during that period of time."

Laird was interviewed on ABC Radio's "On Location."

Asked how close Nixon is to winning the GOP nomination, he said, "He's about 39 votes short of a convention nomination on the first ballot as of today."

The Fourth of July holiday seemed to send campaign activity in both parties into low gear.

Nixon and his GOP rival, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, took a day off from politics. On the Democratic side, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy courted the farm vote in Iowa while Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey began two days of rest after hurrying through a speech in Philadelphia in which he had to compete with chanting antiwar demonstrators.

UN Patrol May Resume in Near East

By MICHAEL JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer
MOSCOW (AP) — President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt had "a frank exchange of opinions" with Russian leaders today on the Middle East deadlock, Tass said. The terminology of the official Soviet news agency indicated they disagreed.

Tass reported, however, the meeting—opening formal talks in the Kremlin—was "marked by a friendly and cordial atmosphere."

It said the Middle East situation, Soviet-Egyptian relations and other international issues were taken up.

The Egyptian Embassy said Nasser might decide to stay in the Soviet Union two days longer than he originally planned.

Senior diplomats elsewhere said Egypt has offered to take back a United Nations peacekeeping force on its soil as part of an Arab-Israeli settlement. But meanwhile a boost in Egyptian military spending was reported in Cairo.

Diplomats in London said the readiness of Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser to restore a U.N. peace force under some guaranteed form of tenure has been conveyed to the mission of U.N. envoy Gunnar Jarring.

It was deemed a hopeful development because Nasser's expulsion of U.N. troops was a major factor in the train of events that led to the six-day Middle East war of June 1967.

Efforts toward a settlement have been stymied by Israel's refusal to give back captured Arab lands without direct negotiations with the Arabs, and the Arabs' refusal to meet face-to-face with the Israelis. The United Nations has called for Israel to withdraw from captured territory and for the Arabs to end their belligerence toward Israel.

Guard Chief Quits Over Riot Orders

HARRISONBURG, Va. (AP) — A National Guard major general says he resigned his commission because of orders issued during this year's street riots in Washington and Baltimore.

Archibald A. Sproul, 53, the last commander of the 29th Infantry Division of Virginia and Maryland, says he ended his long military career because "I will have no part of protecting lawlessness."

Sproul, awarded the Legion of Merit in retirement ceremonies last month, said the riots "were lawlessness under the protection" of the police, Army and National Guard.

"Our soldiers were not only told that they could not load their weapons, but they were told that they could not even use their rifles as clubs to protect themselves or stop looting," he said.

Sproul told a civic club meeting Wednesday night he "felt so strongly about this and about the orders that were issued directly from Washington to all troops in the United States that I resigned."

He said he could have stayed on for another 10 years.

Caution Due on Holiday Week-End

State Police were urging motorists to use extreme caution on the state's highways as Arkansas entered the third day of the long Fourth of July holiday period having recorded one traffic fatality.

The state has also had one drowning during the period.

The Associated Press toll of violent deaths covers the period from 6 p.m. Friday until midnight Sunday.

Mrs. Alma Adams, 66, of Pine Bluff was killed Thursday on Arkansas 54 between Watson Chapel and Sulphur Springs when her car was struck by another vehicle as she pulled out of a driveway onto the highway.

Police said the other vehicle was driven by Michael Holcomb, 17, of Pine Bluff.

The drowning victim was Jim Bob Wilkerson, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Wilkerson of Hamburg.

The national toll of deaths in traffic mounted steadily today as millions of Americans returned to work after an Independence Day off and many others extended their holiday outings into the long weekend.

The total reached 224 midway through the second day of the four-day holiday.

Although showers dampened parts of the Southeast and portions of the midcontinent, dry weather offered good driving conditions over most of the country for the Fourth of July and today.

The National Safety Council has estimated that between 700 and 800 Americans may die in motor vehicle accidents in the weekend that began at 6 p.m. Wednesday and ends at midnight Sunday.

For comparison purposes, The Associated Press made a survey of traffic deaths during a non-holiday period of the same length and counted 553 fatalities. The weekend surveyed ran from 6 p.m. Wednesday, June 19, to midnight Sunday, June 23.

Drownings and boating mishaps also accounted for a large number of accident deaths across the country Thursday.

Seven children on a holiday outing, and a man who was giving them a boatride, drowned when their 12-foot outboard flipped over in Lake Easy just south of Lake Wales, Fla. The only survivor was an 11-year-old girl who clung to the overturned boat until rescued.

A few instances of near tragedy also marred the holiday.

Twenty-seven persons were injured Thursday night when a Greyhound bus en route from Chicago to Miami apparently misped a detour near Macon, Ga., and overturned. No one was killed and only three of the injured were hurt seriously enough to be admitted to a hospital.

Traffic fatalities during last year's Fourth of July weekend—also four days—totaled 732. This was an Independence Day record and also a record for any summer holiday weekend.

The lowest highway death toll for a four-day Independence Day weekend since World War II was 231 in 1946.

During the current holiday 21 persons lost their lives in boating accidents and 45 persons drowned.

No fireworks deaths were reported.

Fire Bombs Thrown in Minneapolis

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Three firebombings were reported and scores of windows were broken by more than 100 youths—most of them Negroes—on the Minneapolis South Side Thursday night.

The trouble started about 10:30 p.m. after a Fourth of July fireworks display at a city park. One hour after the initial outbreak, police set up a command post near the trouble area.

The firebombing occurred as the crowd split in two directions, tying up traffic for several blocks.

Glass littered the streets in the areas as some of the youths in the crowd swung boards at the headlights and windows of the cars.

Windows in a number of houses in the area were broken. A spokesman at General Hospital said 13 persons were treated for minor injuries.

The trouble came about 24 hours after demonstrators clashed with police and with a crowd gathered to hear former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace in downtown Minneapolis Wednesday night.

Wm. F. Dearinger Gets Purple Heart

U.S. ARMY, VIETNAM — Army Specialist Four William F. Dearinger, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur S. Dearinger, Route 1, Hope, Ark., received the Purple Heart June 20 in Vietnam.

Spec. Dearinger received the award for wounds sustained in action while engaged in operations against a hostile force in Vietnam.

A rifleman in Company A, 1st Battalion of the 173rd Airborne Brigade's 50th Infantry, he entered the Army in June 1967 and completed basic training at Ft. Polk, La.

New York Sniper Case Strange Story

NEW YORK (AP) — A blurred picture emerged today of the Central Park sniper as a nervous, secretive man with a quick temper who apparently stole a gun from a friend and used it to kill one person and wound three others in a wild shooting spree Wednesday.

Police said Thursday that the .45-caliber Smith and Wesson 1917 Army-type revolver which the sniper used before he was shot down by police belonged to Kiril Dimitroff of Jackson, N.J.

Dimitroff, like the sniper, Angelo Angelof, was from Bulgaria. He told police Angelof had visited him about 10 days ago, but said he was not aware the revolver was missing until investigators told him.

The New Jersey man said, however, that he was not really friendly with Angelof, but with the latter's roommate, a man identified by police sources as Kyril Dikov, about 45. Dikov was in St. John's Hospital in Queens, where he was being treated for hand injuries suffered in an industrial accident.

Dikov reportedly met Angelof at Rova Farms in Freehold, N.J., where the latter was a dishwasher. The dishwasher job was one of the earliest Angelof held after his arrival in this country, on a Greek passport, in 1966. More recently he worked for a Queens book and magazine distributor, earning about $70 a week until he walked off the job Tuesday.

Dikov and other friends of Angelof said the sniper was usually a quiet man, but would suddenly become moody. One friend said Angelof had recently come into a large sum of money as the result of a law suit, the details of which were not known.

Police said Angelof waylaid Lilah Kistler, 24, in a Central Park restroom and after shooting her to death climbed to the roof of the building. During a gun duel with police, he shot Charles Bach, 80, and seriously wounded him. Two policemen suffered minor injuries.

A Closer Walk With God

Will Lead You Right Straight to Church

In the long ago an inquirer asked of Jesus, "Who is my neighbor?" Do you suppose Jesus told him only the people who live next door? Six of the Ten Commandments are concerned with how we treat other people... our neighbors. In the light of the Golden Rule, anyone could be my neighbor. For it reads, "Do unto others," and not just to the people whose lots join mine. Neighborliness is certainly one of the finer virtues, but if we would have good neighbors, we must first perform like one. Here in this Sunday school class men are searching the book of Luke for better ways to become neighborly. Are you a good neighbor?

By DICK KLEINER
NEA Hollywood Correspondent

KILKENNY, Ireland—(NEA)—For Snowball Dooley, Ferret O'Keefe and Pegleg Pratt, this is a very good year.

Snowball, Ferret and Pegleg are three local gentlemen, doing extra work in Columbia's "Lock Up Your Daughters." This is a bawdy comedy set in the Tom Jones era and they need plenty of Restoration-looking faces in the background. They found ample in Kilkenny.

"There are great faces here," says associate producer Anthony Nelson Keys. "It's the Liffy water in the Guinness that does it."

The Kilkenny Irish have personalities to match their faces. They hang out at the Jug of Punch and the tall tales fly.

There was a story which made the rounds that the movie people would pay 500 pounds ($1,200) a minute to any girl who would run naked down High Street. Two girls applied for the job.

Then the Jug of Punch gang started a rumor that the company wanted real prostitutes to play prostitutes. Since Kilkenny didn't have enough, they were going to bring 150 in from Limerick. A local reporter called the Bishop of Limerick who categorically denied the story. "We only have 63 here," he is reported to have said.

So Snowball, Ferret, Pegleg and the others are having fun—and making a good living, too. Kilkenny was the hotbed of Irish nationalism during the troubles, and there is still a residual hatred of the English. But, for two pounds and 10 shillings—$8-a day, the locals swallow their hatred and go to work.

They built a Restoration-age town square right off High Street, in the shadow of Kilkenny's Inn, where, in the 14th century, Alice le Kyteler poisoned four husbands and was proclaimed a witch.

Today the inn is a handy place for the cast to grab a few moments of warmth—and can be cold in the spring—and an Irish coffee to keep the chill off the bones. It's also nice to get in out of the smell.

The set decorators are making their town square authentic—piles of manure, freshly butchered animal heads, dead fish.

"You can find the set easily," says pretty Elaine Taylor, a wild wench, "if you're downwind of it."

The cast—Christopher Plummer, Susannah York, Glynis Johns, Ian Bannen and the rest—are suffering from flea bites, because there is flea-infested straw all over.

For one scene, there was a pie fight. This was a wild one, made even wilder because the fun-loving Irish stuffed chunks of raw potato in the cream-filling of the prop pies. One such loaded pie caught a stuntman in the eye and hurt him severely.

The cast is all staying in the New Park Hotel, and there is nothing much for them to do. Dublin is almost three hours away by car, through places named Naas (pronounced Nace) and Athy (A-toy), and you have to be desperate to make the trip.

So they stay here and play table tennis and patronize the nearby greyhound track and talk. They admit that the company has been prone to some tensions—and the boys and girls are playing musical chairs and other articles of

Youth Beat

THE NATIONAL REPORT ON WHAT'S HAPPENING

Violent Reaction: An end to bloody battles? No more mass murders? Sadism eschewed for sensitivity? Now? In the near future? Just possibly—on television and the silver screen only. And then it's still an announcement, a projection of new views and what will be. Not what is. Quite suddenly and surprisingly, a large number of Hollywood writers, directors and producers have vowed in print (full page ads in trade papers) and out that they will no longer be party to the blood bath brand of mass entertainment. Some have rewritten scripts long in the writing, others have turned down lucrative jobs. Just some. The rest of the anti-violence fans are still feeling very good just talking about it. Let's hope they take an active stand and soon. After all, there are more interesting and fruitful forms of artistic competition than how many people can get killed, mangled, maimed, raped and beaten in two screen hours.

TRY HARDER: University of California at Berkeley will obviously begin to try harder since they are now number two in enrollment. New York State University is number one in American public higher education. Where does that leave the hundreds of other try-harder colleges and universities?

BEHIND THE CAMERA: During the taping of a summer replacement variety show, one of the guests, the offspring of a famous star, acted rather oddly. She never smiled until they instructed her to smile. She emitted little personality and none of the personal magnetism for which she and her parent are supposedly known.

Too Young to Really Be in Love: Statistics to marry by. According to Dr. Mary Jane Hungerford, vice president of the California State Association of Marriage Counselors and a director of the Southern California branch of that organization, the average age of first childbirth (among American girls) is 19 years. Oddly enough, the average marriage age for same is 20.3 years. That indicates, of course, many premarriage pregnancies. A surprising number of girls 14 years old and under were married. This includes some in elementary school. Studies indicate that a good percentage of these marriages fail rapidly—usually within the first year. National statistics say one out of four marriages end in divorce. Number-wise, Los Angeles has the worst luck. There is one divorce for every wedding. It all seems to bode ill for teen vows.

SIGHTSEEING UP THERE: Tired of collecting old bottle caps and pictures of the Union Gap? Looking for a hobby the parents will approve? Try comet collecting. Mark Whitaker of Bishop, Texas, actually found one—he's the youngest to ever do so. They named the blessed event Whitaker Thomas after the boy and a professor astrologist who identified the comet.

TEEN TRUNKS: The look in teen-age boys' swimwear is long, long, long. Long on length (hermuda-type), long on color and long on comfort. From stretch sharkskin latex to Daeron and cotton they reflect the newest in fabrics and the hyped-up fashion image of today's male.

High Speed Kills: One out of five hot pursuits results in death, seven out of 10 in accidents, five out of 10 in injuries of a serious nature. Are we describing Vietnam dogfight statistics? No—these are statistics compiled by the Physicians for Automotive Safety on 512 cases of rapid police pursuit. Five hundred Americans die a year as a result and 1,000 have major injuries—some of these are innocent bystanders. In half of the cases cited, the offenses were minor speeding or traffic offenses. Citizens are calling for a more clear-cut law on hot pursuit and deplore the loss of life.

AMATEUR HOUR: Amateur musicians outnumber professionals 170 to one and account for 99 per cent of all instrument sales. The play-for-fun group has been increasing at a rate of over two million a year for the past three years. Despite the huge increase, sale of new instruments has declined over the past 18 months. Nothing to write a song about, though. The 1967 retail volume was $756 million—almost double the volume of ten years ago. Total sales for instruments, accessories, sheet music and instructional aids totaled $924 million in 1967. Of the 43.9 million amateur musicians in the U.S., 17.1 million are between the ages of four and 21. This is a 47 per cent rise since 1950, during which time the 4-21 age bracket increased 80 per cent in numbers. Someone is trying to tell us that young people like to go on a toot!

furniture."

Susannah York says she and some other girls took up horseback riding until producer David Deutsch heard about it and grounded them. Now Susannah has rented a car and goes out for drives to "see things."

Ian Bannen, just recovering from hepatitis, can't even join the others in a convivial drink these days. Time is hanging very heavy on his

Laundry Fair Is a Continuous Activity Throughout Year

Over one hundred-fifty participants in Laundry Fair Activity held in Hope, June 6, at the Livestock Show Coliseum. Educational programs and exhibits on new fabrics and laundry equipment, products and techniques were conducted by the Agricultural Extension Service with excellent cooperation from Hope dealers of equipment, ready-to-wear, yard goods, and laundry products, Hope Star, KXAR, Hope Garden Club Council, Extension Homemakers Council, Newcomers Club, P.T.A. groups, and other groups promoted attendance. Considering that over 90 homemakers attended a session earlier on laundering and E. H.

Homemakers studied laundering at club meetings, over 500 homemakers have received the current laundering information.

Marilyn Harris, Karen Wiggins, Janet McCain, Betty Honeycutt, Anita McCauley and Barbara Jackson from Girl Scout Troop No. 75 provided baby-sitting services to make it possible for young mothers to attend.

Mrs. Matt McCauley and Mrs. Howard Jackson served as Scout Leaders.

Attractive exhibit signs throughout the building were compliments of Pat Simmons from Sherwin Williams.

Dolores McBride, Hempstead County Extension Home Economist, presided at Laundry Fair and introduced Extension Specialists who communicated with homemakers about laundering.

Literature was given homemakers at Laundry Fair for home reference and according to Miss McBride it will be available at dealers cooperating. Homemakers not attending may get information at dealers or from the County Extension Office.

Nice door prizes were given away by the following dealers: Collier Furniture and Appliance, Hamm Tire and Appliance, Oklahoma Tire and Supply, Montgomery Ward, Home Furniture, Hope Hardware, Safeway, Mode-O-Day, Lewis McLarty, Ladies Specialty Shop, Rayley's Style Shoppe, Vera's Fashions, Herbert Burns, Haynes Brothers. A gas outdoor grill was given by Collier Furniture and Appliance, Hamm Tire and Appliance, Lehman's Home Center, Western Auto, Goodyear, Sears and Roebuck, Home Furniture, Hope Hardware and LaGrone Williams in cooperation with Arkansas Louisiana Gas Company.

The Specialist advised how homemakers on interpreting label information on yard goods and garments.

She gave some general suggestions for sewing with permanent press fabric:

Select a simple pattern with few seams. Bias seams are less likely to pucker than straight seams. Allow a minimum of ease for set-in sleeves and other constructions requiring ease.

Preshrink zipper tapes, interfacings, linings, hem tapes, and interfacing before using.

The type of sewing thread is important. Use dacron, nylon or a cotton-covered nylon thread. Cutting the fabric must be absolutely accurate. Plan to use folds in place of seams when possible.

Give the finished garment a thorough pressing at 350 degrees F., using little if any steam. Pleats, creases and styling details may need to be pressed in after each washing since hand-pressing cannot give the durable creases possible with hot-head-presses or even curing.

Mrs. Walter Abbot, Alecia Abbot, Marcine Abbot and Mrs. Wayne Abbot attend Laundry fair and learn about new fabrics.

Mrs. Roscoe Bowden looks at different types of bleaches displayed at Laundry Fair that are available to the consumer in today's stores.

Mrs. Bobbie Faye Dillard and Mrs. Gene Dillard look at the different types of materials a homemaker might use in removing stains.

Extension Specialists advised homemakers to not use chlorine bleach on fabrics that contain silk, wool, or spandex fibers or on fabric with a special finish that will retain chlorine.

Mrs. Vera Davis and Mrs. Alice Walters discuss problems in laundering as other homemakers look at Laundry Fair exhibits and pick up available literature.

Detergent exhibit displayed different types of cleansing agents. The Extension Specialist advised homemakers to select detergent according to the kind of fabric, soil, hardness of water, and type of washer.

Safeway, A & P Grocery, and Kroger cooperated by providing a display of cleansing agents available.

Elizabeth Ellis, Extension Home Management Specialist, advises homemakers on laundry techniques at Laundry Fair and gave scientific reasoning in homemakers language.

Miss Ellis encouraged homemakers to take pre-wash measures of getting clothes ready, removing stains, pretreating and sorting into loads to protect against fabric damage.

Cora Lee Guthridge, Extension Clothing Specialist, shows and discusses new fibers and treatments available to today's consumer. She advised homemakers to rely on label information and to return products that do not perform satisfactorily as this is the only way manufacturers will know whether his product is performing well.

Cities Alone Can't Cut Gun Sales

WASHINGTON (AP) — Several of the nation's biggest cities have gun control laws and more cities and towns are considering them. But advocates of local laws are quick to point out they cannot be fully effective without interstate sales restrictions.

The city council of Washington this week gave tentative approval to an ordinance requiring licensing of pistols, rifles and shotguns and permits for carrying them.

It is similar to one recommended by the Metropolitan Washington Council of Governments which includes 15 cities and counties.

Several cities, including New Haven, Conn., and San Antonio, Tex., have indicated their interest in city gun laws, the National League of Cities says. It notes that New York, Chicago and Philadelphia already have enacted strict gun control laws. One has been proposed in St. Louis.

The league has started working on a model gun control ordinance and plans to meet with state attorneys general to draft complementary state and local laws.

The executive committee of the league last May called for federal regulations to keep firearms out of the hands of those likely to misuse them.

It said that local ordinances were relatively ineffective "because of the ease with which firearms may be acquired in other jurisdictions and through the mails."

The omnibus crime control bill signed recently by President Johnson bans mail order sales of pistols. Both the House and Senate Judiciary committees have before them bills that would ban the mail order sales of rifles and shotguns.

The President also has asked for a law requiring registration of weapons and licensing of owners. The question of whether this proposal should be tacked onto the long-gun measure was considered by the Senate Judiciary Committee last Thursday, but the committee postponed any action until next week.

Statistics on the effectiveness of city ordinances are meager, and there are arguments about the figures that are available.

In the case of the Philadelphia law, enacted in 1965, the March issue of the magazine of the league, "Nation's Cities," said: "Although there's no available statistical data to indicate that the law has reduced gun-related crime, a Philadelphia police spokesman said he felt it has helped and 'has kept guns out of the hands of irresponsibles.'"

The annual uniform crime report of the FBI lists homicides in the major metropolitan areas and the rate per 100,000 persons but does not say what percentage of the homicides in each city was by guns.

New York City, under a strict state regulation on hand guns, also has a new local law requiring registration of rifles and shotguns.

In testimony before Congress recently, Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York said that of 746 murders in his city last year, 235, or less than one-third, were committed with firearms.

In its latest figures, for 1966, the FBI said 60 per cent of the murders in the United States was by firearms.

Also in testimony before Congress, Harold W. Glassen, president of the National Rifle Association of America, said that in 1966, 2.85 per cent of all serious crime, including robberies, in New York City was committed with the aid of firearms. Unlicensed handguns, he said, accounted for 87.16 per cent of the firearms crimes. This is proof, he said, that criminals will not abide by the law.

Cash River Project Is Debated

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Support for the Cash River Bayou De View drainage project in Eastern Arkansas began to have a familiar ring to Fourth of July picnic crowds Thursday as eight Democratic candidates for the 1st District Congressional seat sought support for the July 30 primary election.

Several of the eight attended three picnics in Northeast Arkansas — Portia, Caraway and Marmaduke.

The flood-control project would involve construction of a series of levees to control drainage and eliminate flooding in low-lying farmlands of the district. Cost of the project has been estimated at $55 million.

Before stating his support of the project, Mayor Clyde Andrews of Marianna said he was a strong advocate of a balanced federal budget. He also said that economic development, rather than the war on poverty, should be given a high priority.

Andrews said he favored block educational grants to the states, with each state educational department funneling the funds to local school districts for expenditure as they see fit.

Henry Atkins of Wynne, a Negro, said the district needed to upgrade its quality of education to produce a pool of persons qualified for employment.

This would bring in industry and jobs, Atkins said, thus suffocating poverty. He also said he favored enforcement of laws with justice and equal opportunity for all.

Jack Files of Hunter said he would attempt to plug tax loopholes if elected because "if you're an honest taxpayer, you're paying more than your share." Files said millionaires weren't paying their share of taxes.

Lee Ward of Jonesboro, an unsuccessful candidate for the seat in 1966, said the United States must get out of the Vietnam conflict because "Vietnam is the chief reason we can't turn a spade of dirt on projects like Cache River Bayou De View."

Ward said there was no painless and easy way to get out of Vietnam, so the nation should bring its "boys and substance" home.

Bill Alexander of Osceola endorsed the drainage project and watershed projects throughout the district. He also pledged to work for the farmer, saying he favored rigid farm allotments. He called his platform one of

Chicago Bus Strike Goes Into 4th Day

CHICAGO (AP) — Hundreds of thousands of Chicagoans returned from their Fourth of July holiday to cope with the fourth day of a wildcat strike by more than 1,000 bus drivers and motormen.

Leaders of the walkout against the Chicago Transit Authority met secretly with top union officials Thursday and were told to order their fellow dissidents back to work.

The union said it would act on their complaints only when the strike ended. The demand was rejected by the strikers.

CTA Chairman George L. Dement said Thursday night he was "kind of discouraged" at receiving no word of progress in resolving the dispute which interrupted service for some 600,000 commuters Wednesday. Dement said service for the holiday operated at about 75 per cent. But he predicted today's transit problems would be as great as Wednesday.

"More and more drivers say they don't want to take buses," Dement said.

A CTA spokesman reported half a dozen instances where strikers boarded buses and convinced drivers to return immediately to terminals. Most of these occurred on the North Side, an area largely unaffected by the walkout that began Tuesday on the South and West sides.

James J. Hill, president of Division 241 of the Amalgamated Transit Workers, and six members of the striking faction, the Concerned Transit Workers, met for 30 minutes in the union headquarters Thursday.

Some 200 of the dissidents met later in a South Side church and announced following the meeting that the strike will continue.

CTA officials have estimated that 1.15 million persons use the bus and subway trains each day. Although only bus drivers were involved in the walkout, first, they were joined by dozens of subway and elevated train motormen Wednesday.

Friday, July 5, 1968
The walkout stemmed from demand by Negro bus drivers for representation among the officers of the union. Negro drivers number more than half the union's 8,340 members but there are no Negro officers.

Only about 8 per cent of the world's population is left handed, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.
